1.0 Background information about the school and its community

Aberbargoed Primary School is in the town of Aberbargoed in the Caerphilly local authority. Most pupils live within the school's catchment area. In 2002, Aberbargoed Infant and Junior Schools amalgamated. Following extensive reconstruction work to the junior school building, pupils have been educated on a single site since March 2012. There are just over 230 pupils aged three to 11 years at the school, including 25 children who attend the nursery part-time. There are seven single-aged classes plus a nursery class in the morning.

Around 33% of pupils are entitled to free school meals. This is well above the average for primary schools in the local authority and in Wales.

The school has identified about 20% of pupils as having additional learning needs. This is around the average for primary schools in Wales. No pupil has a statement of special educational needs. A very few pupils attend other educational provision for part of the week. The school has excluded on a fixed term a very few pupils in the last 12 months. Most pupils' ethnicity is white British. A very few pupils speak English as an additional language. No pupil speaks Welsh as a first language at home.

2.0 What is SRE?

The term sex and relationships education (SRE) is used in this policy rather than sex education. SRE encompasses the emotional, social and physical aspects of growing up, relationships, sex, human sexuality and sexual health. SRE aims to equip children and young people with the information, skills and values to develop their:

- Self esteem
- Skills for successful relationships
- Emotional literacy
- Ability to make informed choices and minimise risk
- Ability to keep themselves and other people safe
- Own attitudes, values and beliefs
- Ability to access help and support
- Self confidence and positive attitudes towards their bodies and their sexuality

Parents have the right to withdraw children from "sex education" lessons, which fall outside those aspects covered in the National Curriculum Science, as stipulated in Section 405 of the Education Act 1996.

3.0 Why Teach SRE?

Legal Framework for SRE

Under the Education Act 2002, SRE became a compulsory part of the basic curriculum in all secondary schools. Primary schools are also required to have a policy on SRE, outlining details of their SRE programme or explaining their decision not to provide SRE. The Welsh Government recommends that primary schools have a graduated programme of SRE tailored to the age and emotional maturity of the children.

The delivery of Sex and Relationships Education within the school supports the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC), protecting all children and young people aged 0-17 years with their human rights.

Article 28: You have the right to an education

Article 34: You have the right to be protected from sexual abuse.

6.0 Continuous Professional Development

The school is committed to providing high quality and relevant training to all members of staff.

7.0 Aims of the SRE Policy

SRE aims to equip all pupils with accurate, unbiased knowledge about sex and relationships and give pupils the opportunity to gain skills that will allow them to make use of this knowledge. SRE should always be age appropriate and developmental, ensuring that pupils revisit areas in order to build upon existing knowledge and skills as they progress through the school. All organisations should commence SRE with children from three years of age (The Foundation Phase). SRE aims to provide children and young people with:

- Knowledge about physical, social and legal implications of sex and relationships with their intention of assisting them to make well-informed decisions about managing their relationships
- Information about how to access services and gain specific specialised information and advice
- Opportunities to identify their strengths and to build their confidence
- Opportunities to identify with positive role models and explore their attitudes to sex and relationships

8.0 Delivery of the SRE Programme

Sex and Relationships education within the school is mainly delivered as part of the PSE programme. It also forms part of the statutory science curriculum.

Primary Education Setting:

Learners at Foundation Phase will be given opportunities to:

- value themselves;
- recognise and communicate their feelings:
- form friendships and relationships
- name the parts of the body in order to distinguish between male and female
- understand the difference between appropriate and inappropriate touch.

Learners at KS2 will be given opportunities to:

- value themselves
- recognise and communicate their feelings
- form friendships and relationships

and to understand:

- the reasons for the physical and emotional changes which take place at puberty, including conception, pregnancy and birth
- the range of their own and others' feelings and emotions
- the importance of personal safety and what to do or to whom to go when feeling unsafe
- name the parts of the body in order to distinguish between male and female
- the difference between appropriate and inappropriate touch.

9.0 The organisation of the Sex and Relationships Education Curriculum

Our named PSE Coordinator is Mrs J Phillips and she is responsible for planning and evaluating the SRE curriculum. In our school we deliver SRE both through discrete, planned lessons, as well as through coordinated cross-curricular teaching.

Primary Education Setting:

The school uses both the SENSE and Growing Up resources throughout the Primary phase to deliver 3 specific lessons per year group. An overview can be found below:

Year 1: Feelings, Friendship and Being Yourself (SENSE FP DVD Sections 3.2, 3.3, 4.1, 4.5).

Year 2: Appropriate and Inappropriate Touching (Growing Up resource), Growing and Changing and Your Body (SENSE FP Sections 1.5 & 1.6)

Year 3: Importance of Relationships and Family, Friendships and Being Yourself (SENSE KS2 section 3).

Year 4: Appropriate and Inappropriate Touching, Change and Growth and Main Physical and Emotional Changes (SENSE KS2 Section 1 and Growing Up sections 3,4 &5).

Year 5: Feelings and Changes During Puberty, Importance of Cleanliness and Loving Relationships (SENSE KS2 Section 1, Growing Up Sections 3,4 &5).

Year 6: Functions of Male and Female Sexual Organs, Conception, Pregnancy and Development of Babies and making Good Choices When Growing Up (SENSE KS2 Sections 4 &5, Growing Up Sections 6,7,8,9,10,11,12).

10.0 Specific Sexual Health Issues

Everyone has their right to their own opinions and views, and SRE is taught without bias. Topics are presented in a way that considers all viewpoints, so pupils are able to form their own opinions, and also encouraged to respect others. Lessons are always taught in third person – some people, etc to prevent stigmatisation of any group of people

Sometimes an individual child may ask an explicit or inappropriate question. These questions do not have to be answered, and will be addressed later.

School may consider the use of question boxes for pupils to anonymously ask a question, and information regarding child protection issues will be followed up.

11.0 Language

Correct terminology for all body parts and functions will always be used during SRE sessions.

12.0 Resources

PSE is delivered on a weekly basis throughout the school, and a separate SRE policy, and scheme of work has been developed to ensure the PSE Framework for Wales is fully delivered. In addition to this, the school utilises the following resources to deliver specific sessions as stated above:-

SENSE DVD

Growing Up resource

13.0 Confidentiality

Pupils' confidentiality is respected throughout SRE lessons, and it is made clear to pupils that anything disclosed during SRE sessions will not be repeated unless it is felt that a person may be at risk or harm.

School could also include any further counselling, support systems etc. that are in place, and also how personal disclosures are dealt with

Provision is made for pupils whose parents have withdrawn them from SRE lessons. This will be by allowing the learner to work in another classroom during the session.

14.0 Equalities

Our SRE Programme aims to be inclusive to all regardless of ethnic origin, sex, age, marital status, sexual orientation, disability, gender reassignment, religious beliefs or non-belief, Welsh language, BSL and other languages, nationality, responsibility for any dependents or any other reason which cannot be shown to be justified.

15.0 Involvement of Health Professionals and External Agencies

We welcome the involvement of visitors from external agencies to complement the core delivery by teaching staff. All visitors are supported in the classroom by the class teacher and are informed about the school's SRE policy and scheme of work.

16.0 Monitoring and Evaluation

The Headteacher and members of the Senior Leadership Team are responsible for monitoring standards of SRE teaching and learning.

The Headteacher will provide regular updates to the governing body on how effective the policy and procedures have been.

A formal evaluation will take place every three years

I confirm that I have read and understood this policy. I have had an opportunity to ask questions and will ensure that the principles of this policy will be reflected in my practice.
